RIN 3038-AC61

Dear Secretary, please do not change the current margin requirements to 10:1 for retail Forex. All of the people that I work with understand how to manage risk and are use the 100:1 to their advantage for optimizing cash flow. I fear that this proposed margin change would have a dramatic affect on the number of people that would be willing to continue to trading Forex and will look elsewhere or potentially move their money to other brokerages in other countries. We do not need more government control.

With respect!

Matt
